

TERROSOL

NOT THE FIRST BUT UNQUESTIONABLY THE BEST

TERROSOL offers effective surface-active chemistry, excellent dissolution and unmatched suspension capabilities. Terrosol is an economical solution for asphaltene and paraffin deposits. Terrosol can be used to control and remove paraffin and asphaltene deposits in the following areas: Oil & Gas Wells, Formations, Production Strings, Surface Facilities, Pipelines, Storage Facilities.

TERROSOL brings your problem to the surface.

Paraffin is a high molecular weight, straight chain carbon compound that is directly affected by temperature and indirectly by pressure. As the crude oil cools, paraffin begins to crystallize and precipitate forming soft or hard deposits. Due to the many temperature changes that can occur during production, wax deposits may occur within the formation, near well bores, as a function of drawdown or within the production string and surface equipment.

Asphaltene is the heaviest and most polar fraction found in crude oil. They consist of very complex molecules, with structures and properties that depend both on the oil and the separation procedure. Changes in temperature, pressure and composition during each phase of oil production can lead to precipitation. Asphaltene may build up at many places along the production system, from inside the formation to pumps, tubing, wellheads, safety valves, flowlines and surface facilities.

Terrosol can be applied as a batch to clean up paraffins and asphaltenes in Oil & Gas Wells, Flowlines and Tank Bottoms. Terrosol can also be injected into the flowline or down the hole to prevent paraffin or asphaltene build-up. A maintenance program should be implemented to minimize paraffin and asphaltene deposits. The volume of Terrosol required is determined by the severity of the problem.
